A class of more than three hundred and fifty new communicants, including several adults who have recently affiliated with this church, was confirmed at St. Joachim's Church, Old Mines, by Archbishop Glennon during the latter's recent visit to this county. The great popularity and personal esteem in which the late Dr. Harry J. Blount of this place, who died suddenly on September 27th, was held, not alone in his home community, but wherever he was known, was fully attested by the great throng of people that was present at his funeral last Thursday afternoon. The Presbyterian Church, where services were held, was crowded to the doors and hundreds stood about the church in reverent silence during the services. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. H. L. Saunders, after which the Masonic order, of which deceased was a member in its highest degree, took charge of the services, according to its usage. A male choir from Missouri Consistory No. 1, Scottish Rite Masons, St. Louis, sang. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in the Presbyterian Cemetery, and the grave was banked with a great mass of floral tributes. This young physician built better than he knew in his earnest and untiring devotion to the sick and through his genial personality and cordial manner. The love and respect in which he was held by all who knew him was but a small measure of his due. He did his work well and nobly. May he rest in peace.

Mgr. J. A. Connolly Dead.
St. Rev. Joseph A. Connolly, P. R., V. G., pastor for thirty-five years of St. Teresa's Church in St. Louis, died on last Thursday night at St. Mary's infirmary, St. Louis, of heart disease, aged 67 years. He had been in poor health for a number of years. The funeral was held Tuesday from St. Teresa's Church.
Monsieur Connolly was the eldest son of the late Joseph Connolly, one of Potomati's pioneer merchants and esteemed citizens. He was born in Ireland and came with his parents to this country at the age of 5 years. Educated for the priesthood, he was ordained in Potomati. His first charge was St. Bridget's Parish in St. Louis, as assistant pastor. In a few years he was given charge of St. Teresa's Church, which under his management became one of the important churches of the faith in that city.
He was regarded as one of the most brilliant men of the clergy, and held in greatest esteem by those with whom he came into contact. Archbishop Glennon, in his October sermon in St. Louis Cathedral last Sunday, paid high tribute to the deceased, saying in part: "Of him it will be said that he was always the faithful servant and good. He never failed; he never broke a promise; he never deceived. To his people, to the diocese and to Holy Church he was thoroughly devoted, and he leaves a place it will be very difficult to fill."
The people of Potomati have always felt a great pride in Mgr. Connolly. He was one of them who had gone forth from the community to win high eminence in his chosen walk in life. It was only a few weeks ago that he visited his old home town and favored the people of his faith here with one of his eloquent and instructive discourses while conducting Mass at St. James Church.
Deceased is survived by two brothers, F. X. Connolly of Potomati, Eugene Connolly of St. Louis, and a sister, Mrs. Eugene O'Mara, of Upper Alton, Ill.

The mother is Mr. Wisdon's second wife.

THE "AD" KILLER.
The man who stops his little "ad" is but a blooming chump, headed! Because his advertisements tell the public what he has to sell, and if his "ad" is not on deck, the people pass him up, by heck! For none of them will hesitate to trade with people up to date. To stop your "ad," we would remark, is just like winking in the dark: you may know what you mean, but, gee! nobody else can ever see! So do not for a moment think that when you cut out printers' ink you're saving money on the side; it's only business suicide.—Exchange.

A WISE MAN of long ago said: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."

THE good name of this bank was not built in a day, but by years of constant, vigilant effort, and with SAFETY as a watchword. A banking business is founded upon confidence, and confidence is based upon facts and truth. For almost thirty years this institution has been a safe depository for its patrons, and has always been in a position to meet the legitimate needs of borrowers. It is still a friend in need and a friend in DEED.

The subject of the debate staged was, "Shall Washington County Spend One Hundred Thousand Dollars on Good Roads?" resulted in a victory for the negative. Both sides did well, each making some good points. Shelby Clark and Welden Dickey had the affirmative and Robert Yeargain and Charles McKinney the negative side of the question. STEPS ON HILL; BEAR GROWLS
Lumberman Feels "Earth" Rise Under Feet—Goes Rapidly Away From There.
St. Francis, Mo.—Charles E. Jones, veteran lumberman, walked upon a real live bear—but he hadn't the slightest idea Bruin was in the neighborhood. He said:
"I was looking for spots that would show the lines and corners of a township. I stopped on what I thought was a mound.
"When the mound began to rise, and I heard a deep-throated growl, I quickly ended my survey."
